

Corporate partnerships with IIRSM

About IIRSM

The International Institute of Risk & Safety Management (IIRSM) is a UK-based professional membership organisation with a global footprint. We help individuals and organisations around the world to feel safe, supported and empowered to identify and manage risks, protecting their environments and lives.

We aim to drive the holistic evolution of risk management in organisations, educating and protecting their people through our unique communities. We work together – providing training, knowledge sharing and networks – to support the competence of risk and safety professionals.

Building stronger, more resilient organisations

Risk is no longer confined to a single function – it shapes every aspect of organisational performance.

As a leading international professional body with members in more than 90 countries, IIRSM helps organisations build resilience, drive continuous improvement and create lasting value.

Through access to world-class expertise, practical guidance and a powerful professional community, we support organisations in managing risk across health and safety, supply chains, information security, governance and beyond.

Risk management as a strategic advantage

Effective risk management helps organisations to:

- Invest with confidence
- Strengthen communication and accountability
- Empower people and partners
- Identify and seize opportunities
- Build a positive, resilient culture.

Good risk management doesn't just protect your organisation, it helps it thrive.

FIND
OUT
MORE

A partnership approach

Because no two organisations are the same, we let you choose the type of partnership you're looking for.

Your team will have access to:

- Training
- Mentoring
- Professional development and
- Networking opportunities with peers around the world.

Our partners have a wealth of opportunities for brand exposure via our website, Member Resource Hub, social media channels and monthly email newsletters, as well as an exclusive opportunity to contribute editorial content to our flagship publication, The Sentinel. You can also opt for greater visibility through sponsorship of one of our flagship events at reduced rates, exclusively offered to partners.

Several IIRSM partners are developing customised training for their employees with our support, while our mentoring scheme aligns with the IIRSM Risk Management and Leadership Competency Framework. Covering technical, business and behavioural competencies, these guidelines can determine where and how we support you. The framework helps to create a risk intelligent culture that positions risk management as an essential skill for everyone, no matter their role in the organisation.

We have packages to suit any budget. As a Gold Partner, you have further opportunities to engage directly with IIRSM's communities by presenting webinars or joining one of our exclusive networks.

FIND
OUT
MORE

Your role in shaping the future of the risk management profession is vital and we offer the chance for your team to be involved in the Emerging Risk Leaders Network, an international community of aspiring risk leaders who collaborate and support each other to tackle challenges with confidence and insight and to further their careers.

Our internationally recognised designatory letters showcase the level of expertise and competence individuals have. They provide stakeholders with confidence that you and your people are skilled and knowledgeable to industry-leading standards.

Our community offers a strong support network to professionals at every stage of their career journey, and to organisations that want to ensure every one of their employees can contribute to effective and sustainable risk management.

In-house training

In a fast-moving, unpredictable world of work, organisations must be ready to handle a host of challenges, from health and safety risks, cyber attacks and supply shortages to security threats and global pandemics.

Our training programmes are designed and delivered by experts. We can deliver dedicated sessions of our existing courses to your teams, or customise them to meet your requirements. We can also provide industry-recognised approval for your own in-house training courses. Our key training programmes include:

➔ Managing Risk – The Essentials

Effective risk management is fundamental to organisational success. Regardless of sector, size or structure, every organisation benefits when employees at all levels have the confidence and capability to identify, assess and respond to risk. By embedding risk-aware decision-making throughout the organisation, businesses can strengthen performance, enhance resilience and achieve better outcomes in an increasingly complex world.

Learning outcomes

By the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- Use risk management principles to support effective decision-making
- Understand how internal and external factors influence organisational objectives
- Apply practical tools to identify, assess and communicate risk
- Use a simple risk management framework to enhance organisational resilience and performance
- Recognise the critical role of people and culture in effective risk management.

We chose the IIRSM Managing Health and Safety Risks training as we were looking for a course that focused on managing safety from a risk management perspective. The course has supported the implementation of new ways of working by providing a consistent and strong foundation for us to move forward together as a team – something that is being witnessed on a daily basis as we conduct our operational work.”

Paul Austin, Group Head of Safety and Risk, TUI Group

➔ Managing Health and Safety Risks – The Essentials

Nearly three million workers die every year due to work-related accidents and diseases, an increase of more than five per cent compared to 2015, according to ILO estimates.

This course provides an essential understanding of why employees should and how they can proactively play their role in managing health and safety within their area of work. Real-life case studies highlight the impact of events, with video, discussion, group and reflective activities to understand how the theory applies to individuals' own workplace scenarios.

Learning outcomes

By the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- Understand the importance of health and safety and its connection to wider organisational risk management

- Apply key health and safety principles and processes across different organisations, industries and working environments
- Conduct risk assessments, investigate incidents and develop effective action plans
- Gain knowledge of the critical role of culture and people and the key leadership behaviours needed to engage with their teams and those more senior
- Understand the evolving nature of health and safety risks
- Understand and use reliable sources of information to proactively manage health and safety within their area of responsibility.

Become an IIRSM Course Delivery Partner

Partner with IIRSM to deliver practical, engaging training programmes backed by our expertise in health, safety and risk management.

Our courses are designed to help learners apply what they learn in the workplace through a mix of real-life case studies, interactive activities, videos, polls and group discussions.

Available programmes

Partners can deliver:

- Managing Risk – The Essentials (1 day)
- Managing Health and Safety Risks – The Essentials (2 days)
- Self-paced elearning courses and learning modules.

Courses can be delivered as public programmes on a commercial basis or exclusively in-house for your organisation or clients.

Flexible licensing options

Approved partners can choose from two licensing routes:

Full licence

- Immediate access to all course materials, facilitator resources and delivery tools
- Authorised to market and deliver IIRSM courses upon approval.

Provisional licence

- Permission to market and promote IIRSM courses using the approved licence-holder logo
- Opportunity to upgrade to a full licence and gain access to course materials and delivery rights when ready, by paying the remaining licence fee balance.

Self-paced online courses and learning modules

Our self-paced online courses and learning modules offer flexible learning across a range of health, safety and risk management topics. Learners can access content any time, anywhere and complete training at a pace that suits them. Organisations can purchase individual licences or take advantage of discounted rates for teams and larger groups.

FIND
OUT
MORE

“Partnering with IIRSM provides a valuable opportunity to reinforce our commitment to provide a safe and healthy working environment for all employees. We’re looking forward to being part of a global community focused on driving a holistic approach to risk management and aligning on best practices.”

Claire Binns, Group Director of HSSEQ, Venterra Group

Contact us

E: corporates@iirsm.org

T: +44(0)20 8741 9100

www.iirsm.org